PMO intervention
leads to kidnapper's arrest

District Police had rescued Nanjangud girl but had failed to nab the abductor even after three months

Mysuru, Mar.7 (RK&BCT)- A father's quest for justice for his kidnapped minor daughter was answered by India's highest Executive Office — the Prime Minister's Office (PMO). After receiving a communication from the PMO, the Police finally acted and have now arrested the kidnapper and have appointed an Assistant Superintendent of Police to investigate the case. However, the Police have claimed that they acted on their own, without being prodded by the PMO.

The incident took place at Nanjangud in November 2017 where a 12-year-old girl was kidnapped by some youths. In his complaint to Nanjangud Town Police, the girl's father (identity withheld as the victim is a minor) stated that his daughter had gone missing from a marriage hall in Nanjangud on the evening of Nov.29.

"We searched for her for the whole night on Nov.29 and approached the Police on Nov.30. In my complaint, I had given an unfamiliar phone number that was dialled by my daughter repeatedly from my mobile phone. But the Police failed to trace my daughter," the girl's father told Star of Mysore this morning.

"After a few days, my daughter telephoned me from Bihar and pleaded me to rescue her. She told me that she was lured by one of the youths who pretended to be in love with her. He abducted her and took her to New Delhi and Bihar, where she was molested and abandoned," he explained.

"We went to Bihar along with two Police personnel and brought my daughter home on Dec.7. My daughter narrated that she had befriended the youths while they were working as labourers in Nanjangud. One of them then lured my daughter and took her to New Delhi in a train and abandoned her in Bihar. After hearing my daughter's ordeal, I approached the Police with definite clues of the accused and urged the Police to arrest my daughter's tormentors," he said.

2 killed, 7 injured
in bus-canter collision

Mysuru, Mar.7 (RK&DM)- In a ghastly road accident, two persons were killed on the spot and seven others sustained injuries in a collision between a KSRTC bus and a canter near Yelwal on Hunsur Road this morning.

The deceased were the driver and cleaner of the canter, while the injured who were all bus passengers, were treated at K.R. Hospital.

The mishap occurred at about 7.15 am when the speeding canter which was proceeding towards Mysuru, went out of control and overshot the road divider, hitting the KSRTC bus (KA-09 F-5073) which was proceeding to Chikmagalur, near the RMP Gate at Yelwal on Hunsur Road. The impact of the collision was such that the Police had a hard time in extracting the bodies of the driver and the cleaner from the mangled remains of the canter.

Traffic on the busy Mysuru-Hunsur Road was disrupted for sometime on account of the accident.

Yelwal Police, who rushed to the spot on receiving information, conducted mahazar and shifted the bodies to MMC&RI mortuary.

POINT BLANK

Pro-people organisations can achieve what elected representatives cannot

By K.B. Ganapathy,
Editor-in-Chief

The Railway Department's refusal to clear the blockage of the crucial two-furlong road in Bannimantap connecting Hazrath Gumnam Shahwali Dargah Road and Ring Road in city citing safety issues and its argument that trespassers cannot be permitted near the Railway track on that stretch is totally unacceptable.

The Railway's attitude regarding the issue is appalling and is like a blot on the concept of public welfare. If there is a technical problem to build the road on that stretch, it can be solved with modern day technology, no doubt. If more land is required the State Government would definitely provide.

There are hundreds of instances across the country where traffic passes on both sides of Railway tracks. We have seen them filmed for Hindi cinemas. So much so, there are examples of people occupying the vacant spaces by the side of the tracks leaving narrow spaces just enough for the trains to pass by. We see many slums along-side the Railway tracks. Many such examples can be found all along the track at Srirangapatna, Maddur, Bidadi and Jnana Bharathi Campus. Won't the 'safety' aspect, as cited by the Railway in the case of the Dargah Road at Bannimantap apply here? Are these roads next to the tracks absolutely safe?

It may be apt here to mention the landing of 15 Indian Air Force (IAF) fighter jets and a giant transport aircraft on Agra-Lucknow Expressway last year as part of an emergency situation drill. The IAF scripted history through this incident and demonstrated how flight operations can continue even after an airbase is destroyed by enemy forces. Therefore, how can the Railway block a public facility or a public convenience which may be needed for other purposes in case of an emergency? God forbid, but let us imagine there is a Railway accident at this spot and the injured passengers have to be rushed to the hospital. If there is no road at this two-furlong stretch, how can the injured be shifted to hospitals immediately?

In the world of bureaucracy, decisions at the top-level are taken based on the feedback by field officers or ground-level officers. In the case of the road that passes through Railway Goods Shed at Bannimantap, the Railway Officers at the ground-level have ignored the public welfare and have submitted a report to their seniors citing that the road cannot be cleared because of safety issues. Could be true, but one wonders if the Railway Officers have really inspected the road near the track before declaring the stretch as unsafe for truck traffic or have they explained in what way a two-furlong road here is dangerous to the Railway?

Senior Railway Officers too have blindly followed the feedback given by lower-rank officers and have ordered to block the road for truck and other vehicular traffic. Now mud and construction debris have been dumped on the road to prevent it from being used by the motorists!

So what is the solution for this deadlock? There is only one way out here. People of Mysuru must follow the example of a group of people who led a delegation to Union Railway Minister Piyush Goyal in New Delhi and got the environmentally destructive Railway project from Thalassery to Mysuru via South Kodagu cancelled. They did not depend on any elected representatives or officers. Yet, they succeeded.

Anti-people acts

Archaeologists are said to have discovered in 1920s an ancient civilisation in the erstwhile Indian subcontinent, which the historians called Indus Valley Civilisation or Harappan Civilisation. Also described as a Bronze Age Civilisation, the period lasting for 2000 years (3300-1300 BC). Evidence of religious practices in present Northwest India, according to scholars, date back to approximately 5500 BC, the earliest time of urban culture. While that civilisation has been described in glorious terms by chroniclers at different times, urban culture of our times permits itself to be perceived as the culture of towns and cities hosting people in large numbers in a very limited space, with the added features of the residents following different faiths and speaking different tongues. The story of the death of Harappan Civilisation doesn't end there, but on the other hand begins, more correctly has begun, reaching the point of showing itself.

Visualising the scenario of the distant past in the then sub-continent, particularly the ideal conditions of society, marked by harmony and all-round prosperity, is a far cry from the scenario of disharmony and disturbed conditions in society of our times. People at large, pursuing their varied causes and interests, are themselves engaged on anti-people acts, as reported in the land's dailies, including Karnataka.

The script in the pages of the land's long history of several centuries, to a major extent, credits the Kings with narratives of their many pro-people measures, forgetting the fact that many of them also fought wars and hunted animals for fun and further extended an open invitation as it were to invading forces from alien regions, far and near. India has hosted philosophers, authors of spiritual texts of lasting value, social reformers and luminaries in various fields mirroring the rich culture of the land now facing threats from well-marked sections of society indulging in brazenly anti-people acts. Staging bandhs frequently, holding rallies disrupting order in society, raising slogans resulting in uncontrolled emotional outbursts in the public domain and so on, apart from committing frauds have left common people stranded helplessly.

Amidst the turmoil created by vested agencies keen on destabilising the nation, various self-propelled voluntary groups are still holding fort to impress upon the people at large that the old glory of the land can be recreated. It is up to the masses to lend unqualified support to these voluntary groups. That is a fond hope.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

In the Lok Sabha, members found novel ways to protest. When Congress leader Mallikarjun Kharge stood up to speak on the motion of thanks to the President's address, Telugu Desam Party (TDP) members stood in front of him to block the cameras. TDP's Chittoor MP Naramalli Sivaprasad, a physician and stage artiste, wore a pair of ghungroo, or musical anklets, for added effect. Speaker Sumitra Mahajan asked Kharge to move to the back benches to speak. He wondered aloud if she would have given a similar suggestion to Prime Minister Narendra Modi if he had faced such a disturbance. — In Business Standard.

Chat with the dead !

Stockholm: A funeral agency in Sweden is currently seeking volunteers for a project that it hopes will offer people comfort by allowing them to speak to their deceased loved-ones. Swedish funeral agency called Fenix wanting to create bots (computer programs, not actual robots) powered by artificial intelligence that can offer comfort to living relatives of the deceased. Fenix CEO, Charlotte Runius, in a news said that the project began with their current chat bot, a relatively simple AI computer program that the company uses to answer people's online questions about its funeral services. It's a bot, but people interacting with it can rarely tell that they are interacting with a computer program, and not a living, breathing person. So far, the Fenix chatbot can only carry out conversations as text, but the funeral agency is currently looking for volunteers to offer up speech samples of their deceased relative and a voice mode to sound like the person. Runius added that they may add some visual support to the bot in the future, to experience powerful living relatives.

Dangerous bump of Mysuru !

Sir,

One more hump has to be added to the list of dangerous humps of Mysuru. This is at the intersection of M.G. Road (old Chavadi Street) and Ramanuja Road.

This junction is a point of traffic chaos with frequent jams. Recently authorities have laid a hump on the Chavadi Street side adjacent to another hump which already existed there. This has given these humps a peculiar contour of a bum(p) which is really dangerous bouncing twice the unsuspecting riders and drivers. The idea probably was to make plateau-type of hump. But laying it without levelling the pre-existing hump is asking for danger.

Roads here being quite narrow, these humps have definitely not eased the traffic jams in this intersection, rather it has slowed down the traffic further and adds to the chaos. Policemen posted here are helpless and unable to control the traffic manually. Only installation of traffic signal lights can solve this problem.

This road being the major entry point to JSS Hospital, one of the major hospitals of the city, needs immediate attention of the authorities concerned.

Hunsur students meet watery grave

Hunsur, Mar.7 (KK&KS)- In a heart-rending incident, four students, who went for a swim in a lake at Hairige village in Hunsur, met their watery grave in the lake last evening.

The deceased have been identified as Yashwanth, son of Mesthry Krishna of V.P. Bore in Hunsur town, Bharath, son of Raju, Ajay, son of Ramesh of Hegandur and Dhnanjay, son of Shivanna of Hale Chikkahunasur. All the four were studying in 10th standard at St. Joseph's High School in Hunsur.

Yashwanth Bharath Ajay

The four students after keeping their clothes, mobile phones and watches on the bike which was parked on the lake bund, ventured into the lake for a swim at about 4 pm and were drowned.

Meanwhile, one Zabiulla, who was working at a field nearby, heard the students screaming and rushed towards the lake only to see the four students drowning and immediately raised an alarm alerting others nearby. By the time other people arrived, the four were already drowned.

Zabiulla then informed Hunsur Rural SI Puttaswamy over the phone, who in turn informed Fire and Emergency Services personnel, who rushed to the spot along with expert swimmers and divers, conducted a search for the bodies and managed to fish out the bodies of Bharath and Dhananjay. As it got dark, the search operation was suspended.

Additional SP Rudramuni, Circle Inspector Poovaiah and staff visited the spot. Fire Officer Panditharadhya, staff Mallesh, Ganesh, Raviprasad, Doddegowda and Dinesh took part in the search operation.

Meanwhile, the Fire and Emergency Services personnel, along with expert swimmers and the Police, began the search operation to fish out the remaining two bodies this morning. The search operation was on when we went to the Press.

Gang waylays bike riders on Jodi Thenginamara Road

- Assaults one of them with blade, makes away with Rs.20,000
- Residents blame lack of streetlights on the stretch

Mysuru, Mar.7 (SBD&BCT)- A scooter rider was waylaid, assaulted with a blade and robbed of Rs.20,000 last night on the Jodi Thenginamara Road at Bannimantap. Criminals took advantage of the lack of streetlights on the stretch that has a grave yard.

The incident occurred at 11.30 pm when Khalid and Shafiq, residents of Vande Matharam Slum, were proceeding on their scooter from Bannimantap to Highway Circle. As they crossed the Indira Canteen on the road and neared the gates of the graveyard, a group of four men waylaid them and assaulted Shafiq. They then swiped a blade on Shafiq's face and demanded money.

A bleeding Shafiq handed over Rs.20,000 from his pocket. Not stopping at this, the criminals assaulted Shafiq and Khalid, who raised an alarm unable to bear the assault. Hearing their cries, some public rushed to their help and the assaulters fled the spot after abandoning their bike.

Shafiq has been admitted at the K.R. Hospital and a case has been registered at Narasimharaja Police Station. A Garuda team visited the crime scene and collected information. Initial investigation has revealed that the Suzuki Samurai bike that the criminals came in was a stolen bike and the Police are making efforts to trace the owner.

The Police have a tough task here as the bike has two registration number plates.

Blaming the incident on the lack of streetlights, residents have said that though the Jodi Thenginamara Road was recently widened, the authorities have not bothered to light up the area with streetlights. "While there is a constant movement of tucks in the morning that is causing frequent traffic jams, the road has become a haven for anti-social elements. Lack of streetlights and Police patrolling have proved a boon to robbers," said residents.

Robbers usually target people who are on two-wheelers and auto-rickshaws. They even target people who are walking on the road. "Under the cover of darkness, a lot of illegal activities take place on this road and people even consume whiteners, drugs and alcohol and attack people in an inebriated condition. Since it is a long road that has parapet walls on both sides, we do not know where the criminals are hiding waiting for their victims," residents said.

They have demanded frequent visits by Garuda and other Police teams so that fear is instilled in the minds of anti-social elements. "First, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) must install streetlights. Having lights on a road acts as a deterrent. After the lights are installed, the Police can bring the road under CCTV surveillance," they said.

"Many people who come on this road during nights are coolies and small-time vendors who finish their business and return home with just Rs.100 or Rs.200. Even pushcart vendors have been robbed and assaulted on this road," residents added.

Karnataka says NO to Kerala's demand for night traffic via Bandipur

Environmental activists staging protest in front of Aranya Bhavan in Bengaluru yesterday.

Bengaluru, Mar.7 (MTY& BCT)- The Karnataka Government has conveyed to the Kerala Government that it was not possible to open the road between Mysuru and Kerala via the Bandipur Tiger Reserve and Nagarahole National Park at night. At present, there is a ban on night traffic on NH-212 that connects Karnataka to Kerala via Gundlupet in Chamarajanagar and on NH-67 that links Karnataka to Tamil Nadu.

At a meeting yesterday with senior IAS officers of Kerala held at Aranya Bhavan, Forest Department Headquarters at Malleswaram in Bengaluru, Karnataka officers have conveyed the decision. Principal Chief Conservator of Forests (PCCF) Punati Sridhar, Chief Conservator of Forests (CCF) Jayaram, Project Tiger Director Manoj Kumar and Bandipur Tiger Reserve Director Ambadi Madhav and APCCF Ajay Mishra were present from the Karnataka's side.

From Kerala's side, PCCF P.K. Kesavan, Principal Secretary Transport Department Jyothilal, Wayanad Deputy Commissioner S. Suhas and Field Director, Mudumalai Tiger Reserve R. Srinivasa Reddy were present. Officials from National Tiger Conservation Authority (NTCA) including IGP P.S. Somashekar from Bengaluru and DIG Sanjay Kumar from New Delhi were present.

Officials from Tamil Nadu too were present at the meeting and they also rejected the proposal to open the road for night traffic. The venue of the meeting attracted environmental groups led by Vatal Nagaraj of Kannada Chaluvali Vatal Paksha who demanded the Karnataka government not to bow to Kerala's pressure tactics.

Since 2009, Kerala has been demanding Karnataka to lift the night ban imposed on the entry and exit of vehicles via the Bandipur Tiger Reserve and the Nagarahole National Park from 9 pm to 6 am. The ban, according to Kerala government, has hampered the State's economy. The ban was imposed based on the orders of Karnataka High Court and the orders were later upheld by the Supreme Court.

However, since then, the Chief Ministers of Kerala and Karnataka have met five times on the issue, with the Kerala government asking Karnataka to submit to the Court to relax the ban.

At the meeting, Kerala officials mainly demanded the relaxation of the timings of the night ban on vehicles or at the least increase the number of buses allowed during the time. (Currently, 16 buses are allowed from Karnataka to Kerala and Tamil Nadu, and vice-versa). They also requested the Karnataka officials to allow a convoy system that would see vehicles being allowed into the Tiger Reserve at pre-determined times.

Listening to Kerala's plea, Karnataka officials told them that it was in the interests of environment and wildlife, the Court had imposed the ban and opening of traffic will destroy the animal population that is already threatened. They told Kerala officials that Karnataka would not violate the Court order and asked them to approach the Supreme Court.

The officials also added that alternative routes have been provided that connect Karnataka and Kerala. Karnataka PCCF Punati Sridhar said that Karnataka wants to completely ban traffic on roads passing through forests. "We are saying that it is a matter of just 35 km and it is in the interest of conservation. Our request is this 3% area of forests be made a 'no go' area," Sridhar said.

PROTEST AT VENUE

Learning about the meeting of the officials from Kerala and Karnataka on the night ban, Green Groups assembled at Aranya Bhavan to protest against Kerala's demand to open night traffic. The protesters were led by Vatal Nagaraj. Organisations included Vana Jagruthi, Vanya and We Save Wild.

Holding placards that opposed the opening of the road, they urged the Karnataka officials to reject the demands made by Kerala. "This meeting is an effort to pressurise the Karnataka government to relent on its stand. We should not yield to their demands," said one of the protesters.

City Road blocked by Railways

When will Mysuru MP and MLAs go to Delhi and meet the Railway Minister?

Yesterday I was out of Mysuru leaving the city early morning and returning late night. As is my wont, I picked up Star of Mysore before hitting the sack. What a good news! 'Train via Kodagu scrapped'. The sub-title said that the Union Railway Minister Piyush Goyal would make an official announcement in Parliament today (7.3.2018).

Our readers would remember the huge protest rally, numbering over 10,000, with the people of Kodagu, Mysuru, Mandya and a few from even Kannur, Kerala, taking part in it on 18.2.2018.

The initiative came from the Coorg Wildlife Society (CWS) supported by other NGOs. A Public Interest Litigation (PIL) in the Karnataka High Court too was thought of and the advocate was paid an advance.

The Mysuru citizens, responding to an appeal in this newspaper, had donated over Rs. 10 lakh while in Kodagu itself a similar amount was raised. It was decided to take a delegation to Delhi to meet Railway Minister Piyush Goyal. Unfortunately, most of us are tomorrow's men; so the CWS was immersed in a state of euphoria about the success of its protest march in Mysuru on 18.2.2018. This, apparently, led to the postponing of the idea of going to Delhi. It did not realise the Court should be the last resort after exhausting all avenues for relief. Let it be.

However, the good news is that another NGO, Wildlife First, has stolen the thunder from the organisers of the great protest march by rushing to Delhi and handing over a memorandum of protest to the Union Railway Minister Piyush Goyal. The four magnificent men who met the Union Minister at New Delhi on 5.3.2018 were former Range Forest Officer K.M. Chinnappa, the member of Kodagu Ekikarana Ranga Thamoo Poovaiah, members of the NGO Wildlife First H.N.A. Prasad and Praveen Bhargav.

And lo and behold, they have succeeded in getting the "word of honour" from the Minister that this train line via South Kodagu, the pride of the Western Ghat with rain forests, is scrapped, putting an end to Kerala's efforts to have this Railway line since 1962!

Small wonder Karnataka was sleeping all these years or was Karnataka conniving with the timber lobby and train lobby of Kerala? This evil project must have got a hard push this time because there are three Keralites (Malayalis) in Karnataka politics. One is a powerful Minister, another an MLA making news for wrong reasons and another an MLC.

Anyway, a million thanks to Wildlife First which took the Kerala and Karnataka train bulls by the horn and crushed it, at least, for now. But we must remain henceforth eternally vigilant.

Kodagu, bordering Kerala, is a part of Karnataka now. If Karnataka does not take care of Kodagu, it will soon become like Kasaragod in Dakshina Kannada, a part of Kerala. People of Kodagu alone cannot fight for its safety and identity. Karnataka Government has a responsibility unless its politicians are myopic or they have a different agenda. Did you get me Steve?

Now let me turn to another news relating to Railways that happened in Mysuru. On 4.3.2018, about 200 truckers took their trucks to the Railway Yard road (Dargha Road) in Bannimantap and protested against the Railway authorities for blocking the most important road from the Railway Yard towards the Ring Road for a length of 2 kms on the ground of safety issue.

The Railways were behind the inconvenience caused to the public as a result — like elephants, tigers and cheetahs entering the cities and towns. Because of this blockade, the trucks and heavy vehicles took a different route to the Ring Road via the city causing traffic jam chock-a-block on Jodi Thenginamara Road (J.T. Road) of Bannimantap. This important arterial city road is used by residents, students of JSS Medical College and other office-goers.

This 'wanton blockage' by the Railways remained without relief for the last few years despite honest efforts by Tanveer Sait, local MLA and now Minister, the man who had taken the trouble to make this road motorable with great difficulty for the convenience of the people of Mysuru. But see how insensitive the Railways are. Blindly talking of imaginary safety — officials doing their work in a manner of 'makki ka makki', least bothered about the people who need that road.

Consider this: Crores of rupees spent on this road, even breaking part of the mountain, will now lay waste because of some hot-headed blinkered officials of the Railways.

My advice: Go to Piyush Goyal, Railway Minister and you will get the relief.

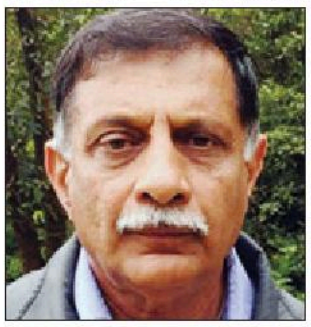
'Fight against Railway lines via Kodagu will continue'

What about Mysuru-Kushalnagar Railway Line, asks Coorg Wildlife Society President

Mysuru, Mar. 7 (BCT)- The fight against Railway lines in Kodagu will continue till an official communication comes from the Railway Ministry that both the Railway lines via Kodagu — Thalassery-Mysuru and Mysuru-Kushalnagar — are scrapped.



Col. Muthanna

This was disclosed by Coorg Wildlife Society President Colonel (Retd.) C.P. Muthanna, who is spearheading the movement against mindless Railway projects that will destroy the eco-sensitive Kodagu.

Reacting to Star of Mysore report on the assurance given by Railway Minister Piyush Goyal to a delegation from Kodagu that met him in New Delhi urging him to scrap the Thalassery-Mysuru project via South Kodagu, Col. Muthanna said that the Minister, however, was silent on the Mysuru-Kushalnagar line.

"I am happy that the Minister has agreed to scrap the Thalassery-Mysuru line and it is great news for the people of Kodagu who are opposing the same. We have won the first battle. But the Minister has been silent on the other line. RTI replies have indicated that the Railway line till Kushalnagar was still on and there is a plan to extend it to Mangaluru via Madikeri," he said.

Pointing out the ongoing construction of a Railway Board Office at the Stuart Hill in Madikeri, he said that if there was no plan to construct Mysuru-Kushalnagar Railway line why would the Railways build its office, along with accommodation infrastructure to officers, in Madikeri?

He demanded the Railway Ministry and the South Western Railway to come clean on the issue. "If we allow the train to Kushalnagar, it is definite that it will cut through Madikeri to reach Mangaluru, damaging the catchment area of River Cauvery. We do not need a Railway line to Kodagu," he reiterated.

While allotting a Railway project either the commercial viability of the route or social service (where road-less remote areas are connected with Railways) is taken to consideration. "The Mysuru-Mangaluru line is neither commercially viable nor is it a social service as the places are well-connected through good and wide roads. I don't understand why the Railways is hell-bent on this line," he observed.

PMO intervention leads to kidnapper's arrest

The girl's father claimed that the Police sat on the case and that was when he decided to write an emotional letter to the PMO (on the complaints portal) addressing Narendra Modi on Feb. 13 this year. "I got a favourable response from the PMO which directed the Karnataka Chief Secretary to take appropriate action. The PMO's Section Officer directed the Chief Secretary to reply to the petitioner and upload details of the action taken on the portal," he said.

The Chief Secretary later directed the Mysuru District Police to act on the PMO directive. Though the Police have claimed that they acted on their own and did not wait for the PMO's intervention, surprisingly, the Police arrested the main accused just 15 days after the letter was sent to the PMO.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Additional SP N. Rudramuni has denied that there was any delay on the part of the Police and they had been following up on the case. "When the complaint was filed, the identity of the kidnapper was not established and that is why there was a delay. Moreover, the case has inter-State ramifications," he said.

Suspecting that there were some internal complications in the case, Rudramuni said that the girl's father wanted us to arrest some more people who are against him (girl's father). "We have arrested the main accused (identity not revealed by the Police) as narrated by the victim. Now the minor girl has to make a statement under Section 164 of the Criminal Procedure Code (to be recorded by Metropolitan Magistrate or Judicial Magistrate)," he said.

"The girl's father is trying to exert influence and speed up the investigation without providing any evidence. We have appointed Assistant Superintendent of Police Himamshu who will investigate the case," Rudramuni added.

Mysuru, Mar.7 (MTY&NNN)- The transportation of a two-year-old tiger cub Dhanush, from Mysuru Zoo to Assam by train in an animal exchange programme has caused heartburn among a few animal activists.

The journey of more than 3,100 km to Assam which will take two days and 11 hours will take a toll on the young cub, feel the activists. However, the Executive Director of Mysuru Zoo C. Ravishankar has said that they are taking all precautions to transport the cub safely.

The animal exchange programme involves sending tiger Dhanush, along with four peacocks and two black bucks. In turn, the Assam and Meghalaya Zoos are sending Pelicans, Ruddy Shelduck, Himalayan Black Bear and Barking Deer.

A veterinary doctor and Zoo-keepers from Mysuru left for Assam on Mar.2 and are returning with the animals by this evening. A special goods train used by the Army has been deployed to transport the animals. This train is arriving today and the same train will leave Mysuru on Mar.9 at 11 pm to Assam, carrying Dhanush and other animals.

Meanwhile, a veterinary doctor and three Zookeepers have already arrived in Mysuru from Assam and they are getting acclimatised with the tiger and the other animals to be shifted.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Ravishankar said that it was not possible to transport the tiger by air as the aircraft, especially chartered flights in Assam are not suitable to carry the tiger since there is no place in the cargo to hold the cages.

"The only option was to transport it by train. We have taken all necessary precautions and a veterinary doctor and gatekeepers will be accompanying them all the way," he said.

Animal exchange programmes are initiated only after obtaining consent from Central Zoo Authority of India, said Ravishankar.

Traffic survey by MGP: DC grants Rs. 2 lakh

DC D. Randeep, MGP Member R. Chandra Prakash and volunteers seen at the Ramaswamy Circle this morning.

Mysuru, Mar.7 (RK&NNN)- A Comprehensive Study on Traffic Congestion in Mysuru City Centre, initiated by the Mysore Grahakara Parishat (MGP), entered the second day today.

The survey is being anchored by MGP Member R. Chandra Prakash and as part of the study, nearly 50 volunteers from V-LEAD, St. Philomena's Post-Graduate Institute and Traffic Wardens, began the traffic survey at 7 am at K.R. Circle, Nehru Circle, Devaraj Market, K.R. Hospital premises where they studied the movement of the vehicles and whether there is enough place for parking.

The study today also involved where the shoppers would park their vehicles to shop in Devaraj Market. It ended at 9.30 am and later, the volunteers moved to Ramaswamy Circle to study the vehicular movement there till 11 am.

Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep, who visited Ramaswamy Circle and interacted with the researchers, told Star of Mysore that the MGP had initiated this study to see how the impact of traffic movement will be in the next 20 years and how the city can be made to accommodate the growing volume of vehicles.

He said that the District Administration had deputed nine Nodal Officers to work with the NGO and the Traffic Police were also assisting them. "Initially, we had told the MGP that we could not fund the project, but now under CSR we have given them a grant of Rs.2 lakh for the study," he said. The study is being conducted with the cooperation of the District Administration, Police and Government agencies like KSRTC, MUDA, RTO and others, the DC said.

The study will be completed and a comprehensive report will be submitted to the District Administration by July this year. The report will suggest how to control traffic and implement other measures to see that the whole traffic system is streamlined, said Randeep.

Elephant calf to be named after Manikandan

Hunsur, Mar. 7 (MH&US)- A three-month-old calf of elephant Varalakshmi at Mathigodu camp will be named after Manikandan, the Conservator of Forests who was recently trampled to death by a wild elephant in Nagarahole.

A decision to this effect was taken at a meeting held on Mar.5 at the Forest Office in the town.

It was also decided to name a Watch Tower at Mathigodu after Manikandan and also institute an award in the name of the Forest Officer to be presented to the Best performing staff of the Department in Hunsur.

The meeting was chaired by in-charge CF Maria Krishnaraj.

Dr. Nanjaraj to take over as MMC&RI Dean and Director

Mysuru, Mar.7 (RK&US)- As per a government order issued yesterday, Dr. Nanjaraj, Head of the Department of Radiology, Mysore Medical College and Research Institute (MMC&RI), has been appointed as the Dean and Director of MMC&RI.

The post of Dean and Director was vacant for the last two years and Medical Superintendent of Cheluvamba Hospital Dr. Radhamani was officiating as In-charge of the post.

It is learnt that three or four senior doctors were contending for the coveted post and the government has zeroed in on Dr. Nanjaraj after a close scrutiny.

Dr. Nanjaraj is likely to take charge in a day or two.

Unique veena concert tomorrow

Mysuru, Mar.7- On the occasion of International Women's Day, Subbarao has organised a unique veena concert in memory of his wife Nirmala on Mar.8 at Vasudevacharya Bhavana on JLB Road in city at 6 pm.

Its unique in the sense that artistes performing on the day are of three generations and it's an all-women team of veena artistes.

The artistes featured are Karnataka Kalashree Vidu. M.K. Saraswathi along with her daughter Vidu. Rajyashree Josyer Srikanth and her granddaughter Aishwarya Manikarnika, accompanied by Vid. A. Radhesh on mridanga and Vid. Sriram Bhat on khanjira.

PROFILE

Saraswathi hails from a rich musical lineage. She was initiated into music at a young age by her musician mother, Kamalamma, under the keen guidance of her father M.K. Srinivasa Iyengar.

Later, she received advanced training from Dr. Gowri Kuppuswamy, a renowned disciple of the legendary MLV, and from Veena Maestro M.J. Srinivasa Iyengar, a senior disciple of Veena Venkatagiriyappa, who in turn was a direct disciple of the great Mysore Veene Seshanna.

She is thus an embodiment of the legendary GNB and Saint Thyagaraja paramparas. She, in turn, is passing on the wealth of art and knowledge to the younger generations. Her musical heritage is well-continued by her daughter Rajyashree Josyer Shrikanth, who is well-known in India and Australia for both vocal and veena performances, and her son Vid. G. Venkatesha Josyer, who is a renowned violinist.

Rajyashree Josyer Shrikanth is a profound and talented exponent of Karnatak Classical music (vocal). Being trained under the guidance of her mother, she has also enthralled music lovers in most of the major Sabhas of our country and also she has performed in Woodford Folk Festival, Australia, Sydney Music Circle Concert, BEMAC Cultivart Series-2016, Brisbane and Music By The Sea Concert.

Rajyashree imparts training to a number of young students in vocal music under the banner of 'Sri Saraswathi School of Music.'

Being brought up in a musicians family, Aishwarya Manikarnika has a natural flare for music and is being trained in both vocal and veena. She has secured prize in AIR music competition and is also a recipient of CCRT scholarship.

When a mridangam legend accompanies a vocalist...

Hemmige S. Prashanth, accompanied by Sangeeta Kalanidhi Trichi Shankar on mridangam, Guruprasanna on khanjira and T.K.V. Ramanujacharyulu on violin presenting a vocal concert.

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

Hemmige S. Prashanth sang for Sri Nadabrahma Sangeetha Sabha, Mysuru, on the 10th of February. He was accompanied by T.K.V. Ramanujacharyulu on violin, Sangeeta Kala Nidhi Trichi Shankar on mridangam and Guruprasanna on khanjira.

It is prestigious to sing with a senior mridangist like Trichi Shankar. Prashanth began the concert with all enthusiasm. Trained under Palghat K.V. Narayana Swamy, Prashanth is one of the rising representatives of his Guru.

Even a listener hearing his music for the first time can say for sure that his voice, composition presentation, developing raga and neraval bring back memories of his Guru KVN.

Prashanth began with the Atta Tala Varna 'Sarasija Nabha' in Kambhoji by Vadivelu, which was clear and confident.

He then took three compositions of The Trimurtis one each successively. 'Janaki Ramana' in shuddha seemantini by Tyagaraja, 'Arunachala Natham,' a Pancha Linga Kshetra Kriti in Saranga by Muttuswami Deekshitar and 'Marivere Gati Evvaramma' by Shyama Shastry and kalpana swaras.

Saveri was elaborate with a detailed raga essay, a satisfying neraval and swaras followed by a grand Taniyavartanam by Trichi Shankar and Guruprasanna.

The composition chosen was 'Shree Raja Gopala Balam' by Muttuswamy Deekshitar was prefixed by a leisurely portrayal of the raga. Ramanujacharyulu and Trichi Shankar identified themselves with the spirit of the composition.

Prashanth chose a few light classical songs in the post-Tani part of the concert. 'Sayankale Vanante Kusumita Samaye', a viruttam by Shri Narayana Teerthar was well-sung in ragamalika in Shahana, Varali, Kapi and Sindhu Bhairavi leading on to the devaranama 'Hari hara ninnanu mecchisabahudu Narara mecchisuvudu balu kathina' by Purandaradasaru but the sahitya lacked clarity as the sound of the mrdangam was too loud.

'Sagara shayana Vibho' is an appealing composition of M.D. Ramanathan. Prashanth did justice to the composition. Javali 'Marubari Talanenura Sami' in Kamas and Tillana in Bilahari included the closing part of the concert.

Considering that it was a Sabha concert, Prashanth could have perhaps taken another raga or RTP for detailed delineation as Ananda Bhairavi was a short rendition.

The senior mridangist Trichi Shankar was lively and encouraging throughout the concert.

Pavanashree, a promising young dancer

By Dr. Rama V. Bennur

Rangapravesha of Pavanashree, a disciple of Vidu. Srilakshmikumar was held on the 5th of February, 2018 at Jaganmohana Palace with pomp. She has been learning at 'Umamaheshwara Nrutya Kalakshetra Trust' for several years and has performed on many prestigious platforms. Bestowed with a tall, perfect physique and attractive eyes, Pavanashree has all the ingredients required for a good dancer. She is also a multi-talented person, whose interest in painting, sports, music and studies keeps her busy all the time.

She was accompanied by Vid. Shreelakshmikumar on the Natuvanga, Balasubramanya Sharma on Vocal, H.L. Shivashankaraswamy on Mridangam and A.P. Krishnaprasad on Flute. The opening 'Pushpanjali' in the Raga Vasanthi, followed by 'Alaripu' assured of an interesting dance performance to follow.

The Jathiswara in Ragamalike was brisk with neat footwork by Pavanashree. After the popular kruthi 'Ranjanamala' by Shankara Ayyar, she arrived at the main item of a dance concert — Pada Varna. Varna has ample of scope to showcase one's ability in Nrutta, Nrutya and Abhinaya. Pavanashree had chosen a Kannada Varna, penned by Gurumurthy and music scored by Balasubramanya Sharma. 'Neela megha shaama sundarana karetaare,' the damsel asking her friend or sakhi to get her beloved Sri Krishna, was favourable to portray the navarasas. Pavanashree proved her mettle here and danced for the joy of audience. A Padam in Tamil yet again had a different Shringara in which Valli takes Subramanya to task to know what was going on between him and Devayani. Pavanashree has a good hold on the abhinaya and her footwork as well.

Swathi Thirunal's composition 'Shankara Shree Girinatha prabhu' (Hamsanandi) was refreshing with the different forms of Shiva. She could bring the nuances of Shringara, its grace in Jayadeva's Ashtapadi 'Yaahi Maadhava' (Ragamalike). Madhurai Krishnan's Tillana in Brindavani was the last item she presented. It was a wholesome treat. Pavanshree exhibited her strength in carrying on a complete concert with ease.

Her abhinaya, though controlled, was exceptionally expressive when required, that could not go unnoticed. The choreography of Srilkashmikumar made it a complete presentation. Her Nattuvanga and the support of other artistes added colour to the performance. Pavanshree is a promising dancer, who has undoubtedly a bright future.

Cauvery issue: State to file review petition

CM Siddharamaiah to hold all-party meeting tomorrow

Bengaluru, Mar.7 (KMS& BCT)- A fortnight after getting a favourable verdict from the Supreme Court on sharing of Cauvery water, the Karnataka government has decided to file a review petition stating that it should have been granted even more water.

Chief Minister Siddharamaiah has called for an all-party meeting on Mar.8 (tomorrow) in Bengaluru seeking consensus over the issue. The government has decided to file a review petition on 3 to 4 issues that have gone against Karnataka including diversion of water for the potable needs of Bengaluru.

Karnataka has also alleged that the verdict, while acknowledging about 20 TMC of ground water across Cauvery delta in Tamil Nadu, has not communicated anything on sharing of this water. "Considering that Tamil Nadu has more than 20 TMC of ground water, Karnataka should have been compensated with similar quantum of water. But there is no such mention in the verdict and we will be seeking allocation of that water as it is available in the delta region itself," an official said.

Karnataka will also raise objections over the estimation of irrigation area across Cauvery delta in Tamil Nadu revealing that the estimates were carried out unscientifically. The Law Department is expected to finalise the content of the State's review petition on these issues after consulting floor leaders and other party leaders tomorrow.

WORD OF THE DAY

Rabble

Pronunciation: RAB-ul (noun)

Meaning: A disorganised or confused collection of things or disorderly crowd of people.

Origin: Rabble has been with the English language since its appearance in Middle English (as rabel) around the turn of the 15th century. The Middle English rabel (originally used to denote a pack or swarm of animals or insects) may have come from the verb rabel which meant "to babble." The verb rabel is related to Middle Dutch rabbelen and Low German rabbeln, meaning "to speak rapidly or indistinctly" or "to chatter." Rabble, in its earliest uses, could indicate a pack of animals, a swarm of insects, or a confused collection of things, in addition to a confused or meaningless string of words.

THE ODD WORD

Ergophobia

An abnormal fear of work; an aversion to work

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A rising tide lifts all boats

Meaning: The expression applies to free-market policies, in that comparative-advantage production and subsequent trade would theoretically increase incomes for all participating entities.

Origin: The phrase is commonly attributed to John F. Kennedy, who used it in a 1963 speech to combat criticisms that a dam project he was inaugurating was a pork barrel project. However, in his memoir Counselor: A Life At The Edge Of History, Kennedy's speechwriter Ted Sorensen reveals that the phrase was not one of his or the then President's own fashioning. It was in his first year working for Kennedy, during JFK's tenure in the Senate, when Mr. Sorensen was trying to tackle economic problems in New England, that he happened upon the phrase. He writes that he noticed that "the regional chamber of commerce, the New England Council, had a thoughtful slogan: 'A rising tide lifts all the boats.' From then on, JFK would borrow the slogan often. Sorensen highlights this as an example of quotes mistakenly attributed to President Kennedy. In subsequent decades, the phrase has been used to defend tax cuts and other policies where the initial beneficiaries are high-income earners.
